NEW YORK TAKING NOTE

With Smith, of Michigan, to Head G. O. P., Both Parties Would Break Away from Location Rules.

By FRANCIS B. GESSNER.

New York, Jily 12.—The suggestion that Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, might figure as a Presidential possibility, stirred up the faithful of the Reublican coterie at the Waldorf, ever Reublican coterie at the Waldorf, ever aiert and especially anxious when new political propositions are presented. The chief attraction of the Smith suggestion was not the name or even the unbroken record of success of which the Michigan Senator is proud, but the prospect of taking a candidate from a State that has never been given either first or second place on a national Republican ticket or a Democratic ticket.

a Democratic ticket.

It was remarked that a breaking away from the old inclination to take a candidate from either Ohlo. New York. date from either Onio, New 10ra, Illinois, or-Indiana, might bring about a more even tempered campaign and a general getting together in the big States which have sought and won the Presidential honor every four or eight years. In Former Campaigns.

Not only have the Republican nomina-tions for first place been given to a few States, but the Vice Presidential nomina-tions have hardly been more distributed. Since Lancoin's time the second place has gone to New York seven times, and while Hobart, in 1896, was credited to New York be was practically a New York Jersey, he was practically a New York man with big interests on Manhattan Island. The Obio and New York com-bination has been especially popular and frequent since the Hayes and Wheeler icket of 1876, followed by Garfield and Arthur in 1880. Harrison with four years as native sons of the State.

The Democrats have matched the Republicans in confining the Presidential honors to a few States with a reverse tendency to give first instead of second place to New York. In 1860 Douglas, of Illinois, in 1864 McClelian, of New Jersey were the chief candidates defeated by Lincoln. Then came the swing to New York for first place with Seymour, the York for first place with Seymour, the
